CURT CHANDLER, LISBON FARMER, KILLS HIMSELF

Former Asylum Inmate

As He Leans on Weapon.

Curtis Chandler, 55, Center township farmer and former inmate of the Massillon State Hospital for the Insane, was found dead with a shotgun wound in the heart in a lane leading to home of John Marks, a neighbor, about three miles west of Lisbon, at 5:30 o'clock this morning.

The body was found by a farmer who notified Sheriff Barlow's office.
With the stock of the gun resting against a fence, Chandler placed the end of the barrel against his left side and pushed the trigger with a stick, county authorities said. J. C.
Pollock, a neighbor, heard the report of the gun but thinking that it was fired by hunters did not investigate.
Another farmer a few minutes later found the body and notified Pollock.
Sheriff Barlow accompanied by Deputy C. E. Donahay, Damascus, ordered Chandler's body taken to the Ellis morgue, Lisbon.

Chandler leaves a widow.

Today

Imitating Birds.
How to Make Money.
To Honor Man o' War.
Steam From Mercury.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE Curtiss and Wright airplane companies unite, with some others, in a $70,000,000 merger.
This air combination, next in size to the National City Bank's "United Aircraft," organized by Charles Mitchell, seek to divide the field of flying with the big bank's company.

THERE will, however, be plenty of chance for the little man.

An air line is not like a railroad line. The air is open. Road bed costs nothing. There can be no monopoly of terminals or of air rights without the connivance of government, which the people would not tolerate.

ABOVE all, there can be no monopoly of ideas.

The flying machine of today is far from perfection. It is merely an imitation of a bird. Science does not imitate, it originates.

The United States has ordered the construction of a plane which is one great wing, no body, all power in the wing itself.

A BIRD requires a body, to cat, think, lay eggs, and perpetuate its species.

But it is not necessary to imitate
the bird's body in a flying machine, any more than it was necessary to put "dashboards" on the first automobiles, as many manufacturers did.

A little man, with a big idea, might make more out of flying than the two big flying companies combined.

THERE are various ways of making money. For instance Henry Ford bought a little railroad, called
"a junk road" by railroad men.
He paid about $5,000,000 for it, and made it earn $1,000,000 a year.

HOW did he do it? By squeezing down on wages, economizing on the road? No! He inaugurated the high wages among his men, gave them a chance to buy certificates that have been paying them 12 per cent annually. He made other railroads hate him, and fight him. But that didn't worry him.

FORD is now selling his road to the Pennsylvania. How much he makes is not known, but he didn't lose anything. His profit probably in the neighborhood of $20,000,000. And the Pennsylvania, ably managed, will add a good profit to that.

ADMIRERS of the great race horse, Man o' War, propose a bronze statue of him. Life size, to be erected on Churchill Downs, where the Kentucky Derby is run. Man o'
War deserves the honor.

LEONARDO DA VINCI, made in wood, an equestrian statue of heroic size, never cast in bronze. It has long since gone to decay, probably. If that could be recreated from the original model, how many millions would it be worth, eclipsing, as it probably would the world's greatest equestrian statue, Verro Cobia's Colleoni.

TURBINE and other engines may use mercury instead of water for steam power, according to scientists, with saving in coal, increase in energy.

FOUR SPANISH OCEAN FLIERS ARE RESCUED

Ramon Franco and Companions Found
Off Azores.

MISSING WEEK
British Aircraft Carrier
Reports Men Alive
And Safe.

LONDON, June 29.—(INS)—Alive and safe after more than a week of drifting on the seas, Major Ramon Franco and his three companions who had been given up for lost while attempting a trans-Atlantic flight, have been found near the Azores by the British aircraft carrier "Eagle," according to an official message from the vessel to the British admiralty today.

After several days of searching the waters between the Spanish and Portuguese mainlands and the Azores, watchers aboard the "Eagle" sighted
the huge Dornier-Wahl seaplane drifting on the waves. The vessel steamed close, and ascertained that in spite of their hardships and incredible escape from disaster, the airmen were safe and apparently in good physical condition.

The master of H. M. S. Eagle notified the admiralty that the four aviators had been taken aboard the aircraft carrier and were being taken to Gibraltar, where the giant vessel was bound when orders were received from the British admiralty to participate in the search for the Spanish plane.

Word of the rescue was immediately relayed by the Eagle to Gibraltar and then to the admiralty here.

GIRL RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

Vivian, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall, Rogers, escaped serious injury when struck by an automobile driven by George Bender, 23, of Clarkson, after it hurtled the curb in front of the William Green general store in Rogers at 8:30 o'clock last night.

The child, who was carried into her home nearby, suffered from shock and bruises. Sheriff William J. Barlow, Lisbon, investigated the accident.

One of Bender's hands was injured and he was also bruised on the face.
His automobile was badly damaged.

Lad Tumbles Into Water
As He Watches
Chums Swim.

William, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Fred Staley, of New Cumberland, W.
Va., was drowned at 10:45 o'clock this morning in the Ohio river near dam No. 9, when he fell from a raft while watching companions swim.

The body had not been recovered at noon. Searchers said that the place where the lad lost his life is one of the deepest in the river between Pittsburgh and Wheeling.

Besides his parents, the boy leaves four brothers, Gilbert, Jack, Neil and Fred.

INJURIES FATAL TO AKRON MAN

Thomas McLaughlin, 28, formerly of East Liverpool, died today in the Akron hospital, as a result of shock following an injury to his arm sustained 10 days ago in the plant of the Goodyear Rubber company where he was employed as superintendent.

McLaughlin graduated from the East Liverpool high school and Denison college, Granville, O., and also attended Pittsburgh university. He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Thomas McLaughlin, and four sisters, Mrs. Ann Pusey and Mrs. Edgar Crawley, East Liverpool; Mrs. Harold Stoddard, St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Florence McLaughlin, Akron.

Funeral services will be held at Akron on Tuesday. Burial will be made there.

NO CLEMENCY FOR OHIO KILLER

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—(INS)— Officials at the governor's office this afternoon indicated that Governor Myers Y. Cooper will not interfere with the scheduled electrocution, at Ohio penitentiary Monday night, of James T. Nevins, 32, Cuyahoga county murderer.

Nevins was convicted of killing Don Prentiss, his cellmate, in the county jail at Cleveland, November 13, last, by hitting him on the head with a piece of deal pipe. Nevins was sentenced to die in the electric chair.

WOMAN MUST PAY $600 RUM FINE

MARYSVILLE, O., June 29.—(INS)—
Mrs. Decima Armstrong, Union county woman, today is faced with the prospect of paying a $600 liquor fine or serving it out in jail, following receipt of word here from the Lima court of appeals which refused the woman's appeal.

Mrs. Armstrong was fined by Judge E. W. Porter here after she had been found guilty of her second liquor law violation. The woman's husband, Leonard, is under indictment for his third Volstead act offense.

GYPSY KING WINS NEWTON CUP RACE

HAYDOCK, Eng., June 29.—(INS)—
Gypsy King, owned by Mrs. John D.
Hertz, of Chicago, won the $5,000
Newton cup race here today. Appendix was second and Plymouth Hoe third.

Racing Truck Drivers Fined.
TOLEDO, O., June 29.—(INS)—

Two drivers of a community traction company here, who staged a race through downtown Toledo with their buses May 18, today had been fined $25 and costs. The men, Russell Hutchinson and Louis Poulman, were charged with reckless driving.

MAN IS ROBBED, THEN STRIPPED

HIGHSTOWN, N. J., June 29.—
(INS)—Two armed men robbed Edward J. Kuhn of $60 in his stand on the Windsor road at 2 a. m., today.
Before escaping the bandits forced Kuhn to strip off his clothes, which they scattered along the road as they departed.

Kuhn's home is 100 feet from the roadstand, and he sprinted along the highway in his birthday suit to the house, and telephoned for the state police.

WHERE PILOT GOES, WIFE GOES ALSO

Here are the three endurance fliers just before the start of the flight of the Bellanca monoplane, "Three Musketeers," from Roosevelt field, left to right, Martin Jensen, Mrs. Marguerite Jensen and William Ulbrich. They are refueling in the air and expect to better all existing records for this type of flight.

their 158th hour in the air at noon today and it appeared certain that they would break the endurance record of 172 hours and bright morning sunshine and giving no evidence of any intention of coming down, the "Three Musketeers," Martin Jensen, his wife, Marguerite, and William Ulbrich, were attempting today to establish a new world's record for sustained flight. At 1:32:02

a. m. they had been in the air 66 hours.

Their monoplane was riding easily and all apparently was well.

Ulbrich, in radio messages to the field station, indicated his anxiety concerning the condition of his sweetheart, Miss Viola Gentry, who was injured in an airplane crash yesterday.

Miss Gentry's Condition Critical.
ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June

mous girl flyer who was injured in an airplane crash, still was in a critical condition today and fears were expressed for her recovery.

As she lay, semi-conscious, in Nassau County hospital, she moaned again and again the word "Bill," revealing a romance of the air that even some of her closest friends had not known
of. She referred to William Ulbrich, one of the "Three Musketeers" now soaring over this section in an effort to set a new endurance flight record.
The other two "Musketeers" are Mar-

Pittsburgh-Detroit Coach Overtakes As It Nears Youngstown

Driver Blames Wet Pavement, Sheriff's Office
Says, But Several Passengers Tell Investigators That Automotive Vehicle Skidded While Traveling Fast in Attempting to Pass Car.

Seven of Injured are Taken to Hospital, While Others Receive First Aid Treatment—Jack Irvine, Manager of Nevin Lines Station, at Wheel When Accident Occurs.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 29.—(INS)—Twenty-two passengers were injured when a Pittsburgh-Detroit bus of the Nevin Lines overturned at Boardman, near here, early today.

Seven of the injured were rushed to the hospital, where the extent of their injuries has not yet been determined.

The driver of the bus blamed the wet pavement, according to the sheriff's office which is investigating the accident.

Several passengers told the investigators the bus was traveling fast when, in attempting to pass another car, the driver lost control and the bus skidded and overturned.

Most of the passengers, of which there were 27, were from Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

The driver was Jack Irvine, of Youngstown, manager of the Pittsburgh Lines station, who was enroute to his home.

Eugene Pasquala, of Sharpsburg, Pa., was the regular driver.
Both were injured.

Injured Taken to Hospital.

Those taken to the hospital here were:

Eugene Pasquala, 39, Sharpsburg,
Pa., fractured spine.

Samuel Schuman, New York City,
fractured spine.

Mrs. Sarah B. Potter, 24, Pittsburgh right ankle fractured.

Jack Irvine, Youngstown, dislocated
hip.

Gus Glance, Cleveland, wrist fractured.

Lee Mangold, 25, Swanton, Pa., bruises on shoulders.

Frank Zakarguch, Pittsburgh, shoulder bruises.

Many Cut and Bruised.

Others injured were:

James Katz, 19, Pittsburgh, cuts on left foot.

Miss S. Loraine, 25, Cleveland, left leg bruised.

Donald Goheman, 28, Pittsburgh, cut on left hip.

Dale Cohen, 20, Pittsburgh, cut on
hip.

Robert Schuman, 19, Pittsburgh, body bruises.

Andy Gulyban, 29, 23 Second street,
Canonsburg, Pa., left arm cut.

James Potter, 5, Pittsburgh, cuts and bruises.

H. E. Hurry, 33, Pittsburgh, cuts and bruises.

Theresa Gulyban, 23 Second street, Canonsburg, Pa., possible right arm fracture.

Paul Goupalez, New York city, minor injuries.

John Sheehy, Pittsburgh, minor injuries.

Henry Newman, Cleveland, minor injuries.

Jessie Kline, Pittsburgh, minor injuries.

Martha Kline, Pittsburgh, minor injuries.

Topples Into Ditch.

The others numbered among the injured did not require medical attention and merely suffered from shock.

F. O. Molter, division supervisor for the bus company, placed the entire blame upon the condition of the pavement. He said oil and tar on the road caused the bus to skid and topple over.

When the machine skidded its rear wheels caught on a stone culvert guard, causing it to spin around and tumble into a ditch on the left side of the road.

Several Injured at Salem.

BOBBY JONES LEADS FIELD

Greatest of Medalists Shoots 215 in National Open.

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports
Editor.

WINGED FOOT GOLF CLUB,
MAMORENECK, N. Y., June 29.—
Bobby Jones, greatest of all medalists, overcame wind and hazard and human opposition to shoot a 35-36-71 this morning in the third round of the national open golf championship and take the lead over the field, with a score of 215.

Two strokes back of Gene Sarazen and Al Espinosa at the start of the round, Jones caught up and passed both shortly after the turn for home and finished the round three strokes beyond Sarazen and four ahead of Espinosa, both of whom found a rousing gale too much for their control.

Sarazen had a 76 this morning; Espinosa a 77, after going out in a par 36.
Tommy Armour also finished with a 76 for a 54 hole total of 221.

This left only young Densmore Shute, of Columbus, Ohio, as the only competitor with a chance to top Jones at the end of the morning round.
Shute, like Jones sped to the turn in 35, one under par.

Jones topped that of Louis Chiap-etta by a stroke for the honor of being the lowest of the round up to this time. Chiapetta got hold of his game after being trapped at the first hole and came home with a remarkable 34, which included birdies at the twelfth and fourteenth and an eagle at the sixteenth.

Shute finally collapsed on the last nine, taking a 41, for a total of 76 and an aggregate of 209.

The standing of the leaders at the end of 54 holes, thus became: Jones, 215; Sarazen, 218; Espinosa, 219;
Shute, 229 and Armour, 221.

"Siberian Giant," Petrified Man, Travels Thousands of Miles During Last Decade

E. A. Willison, Custodian, Visits Two Thirds Of States.

Having traveled thousands of miles and sojourning for interludes in two-thirds of the states of the union is the experience of E. A. Willison, of Minerva man, who for nearly a decade has been custodian of "The Siberian Giant," declared to be the petrified body of a man.

Older residents will remember the "giant," who, it is said, once belonged to a race inhabiting the Ural mountains. This specimen is nine feet and four inches in height and weighs 750 pounds. It was found, it is claimed, by Russian exiles in a prison camp near the cave from which it was procured on Aug. 24, 1909.

Known to his friends hereabouts as "Brose," Willison is a pottery worker, who during the last several months has been employed as a dishwasher in Plant No. 1 of the Homer Laughlin China company following his return to the city after his trip of last year with the "giant." For some years he has been accompanied on his tours by James Sheets, of Wheeling, W. Va., marble placer by trade.

The latter came to East Liverpool recently and spent the night here in conference with Willison as to the itinerary for this season.

Great interest in exhibit. Both, in discussing their travels with the "Giant," spoke of its drawing powers.

"There was as great interest manifested in 'The Siberian Giant' in the larger cities as that shown in smaller places," Sheets said. "We carry with us in addition many specimens of petrified wood which were procured in Arizona and Colorado. The entire exhibition is thus educational and enlists the attention of people everywhere."

Willison explained that the "Giant" is said to be a member of a race that existed many thousands of years ago in what is known as the lower stone age. "We have gone as far south as Florida with 'the giant' he declared, 'as far north as upper Michigan, east to some of the New England states and west to St. Louis, Mo., and the Mississippi river.'"

Both said that they had ever been accorded the best of treatment everywhere they have stopped. Such metropolitan centers as St. Louis, Mo., Chicago, Ill., Jacksonville, Fla., Washington, D. C., Atlanta, Ga., Louisville, Ky., Richmond, Va., Indianapolis, Ind., Columbus and Cincinnati, Ohio, have been visited.

"We were in Washington during the Harding administration and showed the 'giant' on an empty lot just a few squares from the White House," Willison said.

Traveled Through South.

Always the "giant" is carried about in a huge case, the same one in which it was originally brought to East Liverpool by the late William Stevens, who had an upholstery establishment in Washington street. It will be remembered that just before his death he had made excellent replica figures from classical pictures of the 12 apostles. These were later sold and taken out of the city for purposes of exhibition.

"The Siberian Giant" was sold to the company now owning it, and Willison, who just previously had been a cook in an uptown restaurant, assumed charge of it. His initial trip took him as far south as Florida and he was absent three years before returning to East Liverpool.

Since this first long trip, Willison, except for a winter a year ago which he spent in Gary, Ind., has always managed to return for a period to his home here.

Always he has been independent in his showing of the giant. His first duty upon entering a locality or city is to have an interview with the mayor or officer designated by him for such a purpose. Thus he has come in contact with many of the leading executives of the country.

Specimen Said to Have Been Found in Prison Camp.

Permission is usually granted to show the "giant" from the truck, on which it is ever carried, in a public square or on an empty lot. Following the night exhibition the "giant" is usually left in the care of the night watchmen of cities.

"Even in Chicago we were accorded courteous treatment, despite all that is said about the place having many bandits and violators of the law," Willison said.

"But we did read in the papers a day after leaving the Windy City that the body of a murdered man was found on the steps of the house in which we had been staying while there," Sheets chimed in.

Likes Winston-Salem. N. C. Despite the fact that he had to pay a technical fine of $25 after an eight-day stay in the city during which business was unusually good, Willison declared that he liked Winston-Salem, N. C., better than any other place in which he had shown the "giant."

"I paid the fine rather than wait for 30 days to have my appeal formally taken up," he explained. "We were told to show the 'giant' near a tobacco warehouse there. Interest in it was so keen that we were called out of bed to show it to the changing shifts of workmen in the factories there. One of the conditions was that we should not attempt to attract a crowd by music of any sort."

"One day a man came along and offered to play a mouth organ for us. I refused. He persisted. I continued to refuse. Finally as the crowd thinned down about midnight he began playing of his own accord. A plainclothes man came along and arrested both of us. Rather than stay there for a month I found it cheaper to pay the fine, and did. The month organ chap, a harmless fellow, was so keen on his playing ability that he had no notion that he would get us in wrong."

Courteous Treatment in Keewana, Ill. Both Willison and Sheets declared that perhaps the best treatment they ever received was vouchered them in Keewana, Ill., a city almost as large as East Liverpool and which had the record apparently of having more policemen and firemen than any town of its size which they visited.

"It seems there had been a strike in the city. And so the policemen and firemen had been augmented by many of the strikers under the circumstances, so they could have something to do," they explained. "They were so fine to us that we were told to back into one of the entrances of an engine house. All of the officials boosted for us all of the time that we were in the city."

In Quincy, Ill., almost similar treatment was given them, they said. "I believe that Illinois has the best roadways of all the states in which I have been," Willison said. "The state is flat for the most part and when a roadbed is made it apparently is there for all time."

Drink of Lemonade Cost $50. Lemonade was a popular drink with Willison and Sheets during their travels. "We found that lemonade aided in quenching thirst and nullified the bad effects of changes in the water we were forced to drink in the constantly changing localities which we visited," they said.

And once, just at daybreak after traveling the greater portion of one night, a drink of lemonade cost them $50. They had stopped on the side of a road to partake of their beverage when they were struck in the rear by an on-coming vehicle which sent Sheets through a wire fence over the hillside and the truck a part of the way after him. They were wrong in supposing on a main thoroughfare and had to pay $25 for doing so. Then it cost them about the same sum to get the truck and the "giant" back to the road again.

They had a lantern hanging behind, but somehow they were not seen. The incident happened near Decatur, Ill. In going about the country, Willison has met many former East Liverpool residents who always come around to have another glimpse of "The Siberian Giant."

Among those he remembered he mentioned Robert Sodaker in Brazil, Ind., Edward and John Firth, decorators in the Mutual China company of Indianapolis, Ind., and William and J. Hoyt, glass decorators in Springfield, Ohio.

"So far as I have been able to discern, 'The Siberian Giant' has not changed in the slightest degree since it was kept here in East Liverpool," Willison disclosed. "It has been a rare experience in taking it about the country."

25 JURORS CALLED IN TRIAL OF STEVE GEORGE LIQUOR CASE

Salem Charge Will be Heard in Common Court on Monday.

LISBON, O., June 29.—Twenty-five jurors have been instructed to report in common pleas court Monday morning when the case of Ohio against Steve George of Salem, charged with possessing liquor, third offense will be called for trial. They are:

East Liverpool—Anna M. Bell and John W. Votrey. Lisbon—Walter Laughlin, Andrew J. McDevitt and William Whitacre. East Palestine—Curt Lipp and Paul Grimm.

Wellsville—John M. Kerr, R. F. D.; Helen Serafy, Frank R. Johnson and John P. Diemer. Salem—A. W. Stoner, Minnie E. Mather, Kate Deweese and F. L. Stewart.

New Waterford—Florence Rapert and Henry Hartford.

Scattering—Lester Fisher, Leetonia; H. H. Hogue, Sallenville; James Harmon, Columbiana, R. F. D.; J. J. Peoples, Summitville; Jessie M. Koch, Leetonia, R. F. D.; W. D. Olphant and C. F. King, Winona.

LAWRENCE BAILEY SUED FOR DIVORCE

Lawrence Bailey, recently sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary by Judge W. F. Lones for from one to five years on an indictment charging him with manufacturing liquor, has been sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Clara M. Bailey of East Liverpool.

They were married at Steubenville, Jan. 31, 1922, and have one child, in addition to a decree, Mrs. Bailey asks the court to divest her husband of his dower in 5.75 acres of land in Liverpool township as alimony.

MINERVA MAN IS FINED $100

After spending a day in the county jail, Charles Lucas of Minerva, paid a $100 fine and costs, assessed by Judge Lodge Riddle on a charge of possessing liquor. Lucas was arrested at a dance place near Millport, Thursday night.

FORECLOSURE SUIT FILED IN COURT

Foreclosure proceedings have been filed in common pleas court by the Union Savings & Loan Company, against Ulysses Cunningham and others of East Liverpool to recover a claim of $2,983.29.

The court has ordered a sale of property owned by the colored Methodist Church of Salem.

There has been a settlement out of court in the $20,000 damage action filed last March by Ruth Obenour against Fred H. Cartwright.

In the case of the Youngstown Pressed Steel Company against Edward C. Whitacre, doing business as the Whitacre Boiler Company, the court has granted leave to the defendant to file an amended answer and cross petition at once.

ATTORNEY FEES FIXED AT $1,100

Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, following a hearing, ruled that Attorney K. L. Coburn should receive $1,100 as fees and $34 as personal expense from Hannah M. Leininger, administratrix of the estate of Walter O. Radkey. The court set the appeal bond at $500, as Mr. Coburn announced he proposed to carry the case to common pleas. Coburn asked $3,179.16.

Six attorneys were examined as witnesses.

Mrs. Thelma McFeely Divorced. The divorce action filed by Mrs. Thelma McFeely against her husband has been dismissed by the court, and on a second petition the court has ordered the defendant to pay his wife $50 as counsel fees within 30 days and $6 a week for the support of a minor child. When the first petition was filed, the court ordered the husband to pay the wife $50 a week for the support of a minor child.

KARESS VIEGAY FIANCEE

The new shades—Tan and Rose Tan—are the style hits of the season. Come in and see them. Barbara Gould's ambition is to offer complexion loveliness to every woman. The daily use of her Cleansing Cream is the first step.

Beauty Begins With the Care of the Skin

EVERY woman loves to have a beautiful skin. It is one of the first essentials to feminine charm and attractiveness. For that reason the correct daily care of the skin is important.

A clear, smooth skin just naturally presupposes regular and thorough cleansing; the complete and effective removal of all dust and dirt which find lodgement in the pores. Without this cleansing, the skin soon takes on a dull, drab and worn appearance—the very thing all women would avoid.

Lucille Buhl Cleansing Cream makes this cleansing easy—and thorough. It liquefies almost the instant it touches the skin, thereby penetrating into the pores, softening and loosening the tiniest particles of dirt which are then easily removed with cleansing tissue.

Lucille Buhl Cleansing Cream in tubes convenient for traveling (7c.); or in blue and white trimmed opal jars for the boudoir, $1.00 to $3.50.

Nervous Run Down Condition Responds to Owa-Ton-Na

For the Newell Base Ball Player Finds In This Compound a Remedy of Real Merit.

Although Owa-Ton-Na has been sold in East Liverpool and vicinity but a short time, the many friends and loud praise which it has received, prove without question the value of nature's own roots, herbs, barks and berries as formulated in this compound in bringing back health. This fine old Indian Remedy has been so successful in kidney, liver, stomach and in testicular disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general run down condition of health that many now depend on it whenever they are not feeling just right.

Results are obtained not through the use of dangerous, harmful, doping drugs but by nature's own remedies as originally used by the Indians. Even today many of the remarkable results obtained by the Indians are unexplainable by science. These secrets were the knowledge of the Indian alone and but very few have come into possession of the white man. Owa-Ton-Na is an original Indian formula scientifically prepared so that the contents may be intact when you receive them. A special laboratory representative is now located at Carnahan's Drug Store, 114 E. 6th St., East Liverpool, who will be glad to tell you all about the merits of this remedy. This service is free and incurs no obligation.

Those suffering from nervous run down condition should find a lot of hope in the endorsement which Mr. Everett Ash, Washington St., Newell, W. Va., gives Owa-Ton-Na. He says: "For the past year I have just about been a nervous wreck. My whole system seemed to be run down, my stomach was in terrible condition, food of any kind distressed me, gas would form so bad at times that I felt miserable. My head ached so bad it felt as though it would split open. Back aches and dizzy spells had me worried lots of times."

"I was so nervous at times that I could hardly talk to anyone. I tried so many medicines that I was completely discouraged. Nothing seemed to do me any good. When I first decided to try Owa-Ton-Na I was almost afraid to take it since so many medicines had made me sick. Owa-Ton-Na is different than anything that I have ever taken. Even the first bottle gave me wonderful results. My stomach started to function normally, food digested the way it should and my appetite picked up wonderfully."

"My bowels now function normally, headaches and backaches as well as dizzy spells are a thing of the past. I have new pep and energy. I want to say that Owa-Ton-Na is a remarkable medicine and I recommend it to anyone who is suffering."

Owa-Ton-Na has helped so many even after all other methods tried, had failed, that surely you, too, even though you are discouraged, should at least give it a trial. Call at Carnahan's Drug Store, 114 E. 6th St., and have a talk with the special laboratory representative while this service is available. Owa-Ton-Na is also obtainable at Carnahan's East End Store and Newell, W. Va. Store.

Safety Of Air Travel

The Roosevelt Field accident yesterday in which Jack Ashcraft, veteran pilot, was killed and Viola Gentry, noted woman flier, was injured while attempting to set a new refueling endurance record in their biplane, "The Answer," while regrettable, was not entirely without value to aviation. For it directed attention to the fact that it takes a mishap to best illustrate the safety of air travel.

When Ashcraft and Miss Gentry crashed head on into a tree near the New York field, as a result of over-estimating their supply of gasoline, the endurance plane, "Three Musketeers," with Maryin Jensen, Mrs. Jensen and William Ulrich aboard, was still soaring above them in an effort to smash the mark of 172 1/2 hours set by James L. Kelly and R. L. Robbins.

And Owen Haugland and Charles Johnson were piloting the plane, "Miss Minneapolis," near the Minneapolis metropolis, toward a refueling record, while another endurance plane at Cleveland was preparing to go aloft again after descending because of a storm.

At the same time, Captain Frank Hawks was speeding from Los Angeles, Calif., to New York, aiming to smash his own transcontinental non-stop flight mark after hopping from the east to the west in 19 hours, 10 minutes and 23 seconds.

And, too, it should not be forgotten that Colonel Charles A. Lindberg has spanned the ocean, hopped to Latin America and jump here and there across the country without a serious accident.

Even the recent fall of a British plane into the English channel brought into sharp relief the remarkable record made by the company operating it. In ten years of existence it has flown nearly a million passengers across the channel and has had few catastrophes.

The faith of the public in the safety of the airplane is shown by F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aeronautics, who, in a speech at Birmingham the other day, quoted statistics to show that 53,000 people were flown more than 10,500,000 miles in New York state last year. And on this basis more than 2,000,000 in other states were air line passengers in the same period.

Skeptics need not go beyond East Liverpool to find statistics attesting the safety of air travel. During the year that the Chamber of Commerce airport has been established, no airport planes, which have carried hundreds of passengers, have figured in accidents.

Capone Changes His Mind

Concurrent with the news that "Scarface Al" Capone would start his fight for freedom from the Holmesburg county prison at Philadelphia where he and his bodyguard, Frank Rio, were confined after being found with concealed weapons, came the announcement by Philadelphia police that the city is gradually filling up with thugs and gunmen of various classifications. Capone's friends and enemies are gathering for the kill, or for the conquest, as the case may be.

Entirely neglected are the stories about Capone's elation over his jail home. Immediately after his sentence, it was rumored that he considered himself fortunate to be locked up away from the dangers that faced him at every turn, but the stuffy, overcrowded Holmesburg prison is far from being a summer resort. The Chicago beer baron no doubt regrets that he did not select his location with better judgment. Perhaps he wishes that he had been committed to Atlanta or some really exclusive prison where common persons are not allowed.

If "Capone Al" were not such a notorious character, it would be sinful to gloat over his discomfiture, but the fact that he is admittedly just a dyed-in-the-wool gangster who happened to be arrested when he wasn't expecting it and in a place so far away from home that he couldn't be released the same night is high class amusement to the vast throng of penny pinchers who are forced to respect the law which Capone, rolling in wealth, has so successfully evaded. There is no underdog sympathy for this racketeer; he had his dance and now he is paying the piper. It's deferred payment and it ought to be accompanied by high interest.

Hits Immunity Clause

From Washington comes the announcement that Senator Hiram Bingham, of Connecticut, is planning to propose at the next session of congress an amendment to the constitution of the United States which will, if it becomes a part of the basic law of the land, strip from members of congress immunity from prosecution for utterances made by them on the floors of the senate and house.

The Washington dispatch reads "immunity from prosecution for libel," but a reading of the text of the senator's announcement shows that his proposal is far broader than that; that it embraces slander as well, for many utterances made on the floors of the United States senate and house are not committed to writing or to print, to marble or to bronze, nor to any other form which would bring them within the category of libels.

In making the announcement to the press, Senator Bingham recited the fact that much harm is often done by untrue statements, utterly without foundation of fact, made upon the floors of the house and senate, where those uttering them are protected by the constitutional clause providing that "any speech or debate in either house shall not be questioned in any other place."

The shameful utterance made in congress, especially in the upper house, have been matters of reproach and disgrace to the nation. Neither the living nor the dead, neither the high nor the low, neither those in official nor those in private life, have been spared. The senate floor has been the scene of utterances of venom and attacks as base, vicious and cowardly as they have been untrue.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—Stimulation of American export trade with attendant increased manufacturing and business activity is expected by many officials of the United States government to result from the return to power of the British Labor party in Great Britain.

This opinion is founded on a belief that new ideas and new industrial leadership in England will bring about increased employment and increased employment necessarily will enhance purchasing power. Such a change is bound to raise the standard of living, it is arrested, and the demand for all sorts of goods, both British-made and American-made, will follow.

In fact the Labor party has come into power on the strength of its platform pledges to increase the number of jobs available to the British people. Both the Labor and Liberal parties held out to the voters the promise of the adoption of a tremendous program of public works as one means of increasing employment. Inasmuch as these were the two parties which showed gains in the election held last May 30, it is to be expected that the gigantic public works will be undertaken.

Operation of economic law results in benefits accruing to widely scattered interests when any large group has its purchasing power increased. So when the British people are more fully employed, American exporters may fairly expect bigger orders for goods. Exporters of other countries may do the same but, in general, the United States will be the principal gainer for we have more things which the British want to buy than other countries have. That means busier American factories.

American officials do not state their expectation of increased export trade in terms designed as a criticism of the Conservative party which was defeated at the polls. But it is observed that the Conservatives have been in power for several years and have, perhaps, got into a rut. It is recognized by the British leaders themselves that a general awakening is needed there. Some methods of manufacture are still in use which have been followed for half a century without improvement. The big mill owners and other employers are Conservatives, politically for the most part and are not eager to make expensive changes in plants.

The Labor party, it is understood here, will induce the big employers to institute mass production on a larger scale in Great Britain. Mass production is used in some factories but, as a rule, the big British mill owner has felt that the idea was a half-barbaric American one and has been inclined to scorn it. But, the leaders of the Labor government are pointing out, unless these methods are adopted the Americans will get all the trade away from them and there will not be even as many jobs as at present.

Specifically, the Labor government is expected to get the big employers together in committees and press them as hard as they can to modernize their plants and their methods. An effort will be made to infuse a little of the "go-getter" spirit of American business into British industry.

The new government will urge consolidations of big competing companies in order to effect economies and increase production. There is no Sherman law in Great Britain which forbids big mergers such as the Old Standard Oil trust in the United States. Companies may become as big as they can and experience has shown that the bigger a company, the greater its world trade and, because of the great demand for its product, the larger number of men and women it must employ.

Political parties can not work miracles. American officials know as well as others that it may prove that the Labor party can do no more toward relieving British unemployment than has the Conservative party. Certainly the Conservative party desired all that was best for the British people. But it is recognized that there is a stimulus in the psychological effects of a change in government.

While the Labor party is pledged to disarmament as a peace move and also as a means of saving millions of pounds which can give jobs to people building roads and buildings and other public works, it also must be pointed out that disarmament would mean the closing down of gun and munition factories, throwing thousands out of work.

Fundamentally, economists all over the world have a feeling that Great Britain's large unemployment problem will never be wholly solved by any party until its population is diminished. The industrial plant of Great Britain was built up at a time when her colonies and dominions were undeveloped and had almost no manufacturing of their own. Great Britain still has the plant of empire proportion with little more than a home market to serve.

Questions And Answers

By Frederick J. Haskin.

What do you need to know? Is there some point about your business or personal life that puzzles you? Is there something you want to know without delay? Submit your question to Frederick J. Haskin, Director of our Washington Information Bureau. He is employed to help you. Address your inquiry to the East Liverpool Review Information Bureau, Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C., and enclose two cents in coin or stamps for return postage.

Q. What part of the movie audience of today is composed of children? G. N. F.

A. In one survey conducted in New York City which included mainly small neighborhood houses, the percentage of children was 5.2 of the total attendance.

Q. Is the girl who won the international beauty contest at Galveston a Jewess? A. H. W.

A. Miss Lisl Goldarbeiter, the Austrian beauty who was crowned Miss Universe, is a Jewess.

Q. Who is responsible for the maxim, "The customer is always right?" M. C.

A. To Marshall Field, the great Chicago merchant, is attributed this maxim.

Q. How has the proper size for a swimming pool been determined? G. A.

A. The size of pool required for a given community or neighborhood is determined by the estimated number of users and the amount of pool space required by each. Twenty-seven square feet has been determined as the average space requirement for each swimmer using the pool, and ten square feet for each non-swimmer. Twelve persons represent the maximum number which should be permitted in the area within a ten foot radius of each diving board or platform. It was assumed in arriving at these figures that all of the swimmers and bathers are not actually in the water at one time.

Q. When was music first written? S. A. J.

A. The earliest attempt at notation in music was probably made by the Hindus and Chinese at a very early date. Notation was also known to the Greeks. The modern system was devised by the Italian Guido of Arezzo.

The East Liverpool Review Offers a Religious Fact Booklet

Our Washington Information Bureau has compiled into a 48 page booklet the essential facts about religious organizations of the world, with especial attention to facts on religious bodies in the United States.

This booklet does not touch upon opinions or disputes of any sort, but is a summary of facts. Sent to any reader for ten cents in coin or stamps. Frederic J. Haskin, Director, The East Liverpool Review Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Turning Back Pages of Memory

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, June 29.—A huge army of 20,000 night laborers are loosed on Greater New York's streets and building excavations after the sun goes down daily. They are better paid after dark and few of them after a short while return to day labor.

The night worker has found that aside from the higher wage, he can put by more for the rainy day and is better able to withstand temptation. By dawn he is so exhausted he is interested in nothing but a square meal and sound sleep. He is accounted a steady workman.

When they arise in the late afternoon, the convivial companions of the usual night are at work. There are few places to go during daylight. Consequently the relaxation is simple. Their chief form of amusement is in the neighborhood movie.

Two big building contractors were formerly night workers and were able to save enough money to start on their own at the auspicious time. At night the roar of the city has simmered down to a hum. Dreamers may work and plan their future without so much interruption about them.

The night forces often recruit men who have met failure in various parts of the world and are seeking a new start. It offers a way to hide from the heavy crush of day crowds. Among them, too, are those who made their mistake and wait in shadowy obscurity for the world to forget.

There is a peripatetic preacher who has for years spread the gospel among the toilers of the night. He goes among them at the midnight hour, mounts a soap box and is always recorded a respectful hearing. There is no collection and he is known merely as "The Night Parson."

Often one sees workers during relaxing hours reading worthwhile books or studying various text tomes. Many have taken advantage of the extension courses offered by various colleges and graduated from pick and shovel to more profitable callings.

Writes W. L. "I can always identify the country boy adrift in the Big Town," he accents the "po" in policeman.

DANCING GIRLS IN FOX FILMS

What the Tiller Girls, the Albertina Rasch and Marion Morgan dancers are to the musical comedy and vaudeville stage, the recently formed Fox Movietone ballet is to the speaking screen.

Sixteen girls who appear in special numbers for the William Fox Movietone Follies of 1929 were signed to a one-year contract the other day by Fox Movietone officials. They will be used in forthcoming musical comedies of the screen. The Follies will open a four-day engagement at the Cermale theater Monday.

The girls, who are nearly all natives of California, were trained at the Fanchon and Marco schools and some of them have appeared in several shows in Fox West Coast theaters. Fanchon and Marco, with Archie Gottler, staged the elaborate ensembles for the Follies.

Two tutors have been engaged for the girls, whose ages range from 12 to 29 years, as the California laws require that they maintain a definite scholastic standard.

Gwen Evans, a well-known dancer and dancing instructor of the West Coast, also has been signed to a contract and will supervise the various dance routine for the Fox Movietone ballet.

In the Fox Movietone Follies are two hundred performers who make it the all-singing, dancing, talking musical comedy that it is. Among the entertainers are the three greatest adagio teams on the Pacific Coast, all ranking high in their profession throughout the country. They contribute several unusual dancing numbers. The teams are Vina Gale and Arthur Springer, Helen Hunt and Charles Huff and Harriet and John Griffith. All of them have been featured in Fanchon and Marco productions.

In addition, there are choruses of various sizes. Many of the other dancers no doubt will be rewarded for their fine work in one way or another.

Unemployment in Denmark is rapidly decreasing.

CHEVALIER HIT COMES TO STATE

When Maurice Chevalier made his debut at the Ziegfeld Frolic in New York in February the critics of the metropolis were as one in sounding his praises. They said that he was Will Rogers, Charlie Chaplin and Al Jolson all under one straw hat, and they predicted that the film he had just finished making in Hollywood, his first for the moving picture public, would be a great success.

That film, "Innocents of Paris," will open a run at the State theater Monday.

It is difficult to describe the intangible quality of mimic art which this idol of the French stage wields over his audiences. Young and old take him to their hearts as soon as they glimpse his all-persuasive smile. His is a genius with something of the divine spark that made La Bernhardt immortal.

"Innocents of Paris" deals with the rise of a pushcart peddler and singer, who gets his chance, and makes good on the stage. The scenes are laid in the French capital.

"KING OF KINGS" AT AMERICAN

"The King of Kings," a picture drama dealing with the last two years of the life of Christ, will be presented at the American theater on Monday. This is the film on which Cecil B. De Mille was engaged for a year and which he directed from an adaptation by Jeanie Macpherson, based on the New Testament narratives.

In "The King of Kings" are reproduced the great historical locales of Galilee, the Temple, and Halls of Caiaphas and Pilate, the Hill of Calvary and the Easter Garden so familiar to readers of the narrative or those who have traveled in the Holy Land.

Eighteen principals of stellar importance were required; there were no less than 550 named roles and 428 supernumeraries. Among the noteworthy principals may be mentioned H. B. Warner, Dorothy Cumming, Ernest Torrence, Joseph Schildkraut, Jacqueline Logan, Sam De Grasse, Victor Varconi, Theodore Kosloff, George Siegmann, Majel Coleman, William Boyd, Julia Faye and Robert Edeson.

New Thrill!

MAURICE CHEVALIER

(Pronounced SHA-VA'HL-YEH)

STRAIGHT from the gay boulevards and the famous Folies Bergere of Paris he comes to you—the man whom millions have hailed as The World's Greatest Entertainer!

New York raved about him when he dazzled packed houses at Ziegfeld's famous Midnight Frolic. "For the first time the show was stopped dead still by a performer—Chevalier! What a debut!" said The New York Telegraph. "Chevalier is the greatest entertainer the public has ever seen!" declared The New York Evening Post. "Charming personality, delightful voice and a dynamic quality like Jolson at his most electric best!"

Now through the magic of the talking screen the charm and magnetic voice of The Great Chevalier come to you! You will rave about him too! In "Innocents of Paris," his first singing, talking motion picture!

HEAR him sing "Louise"—especially written for Chevalier in this picture and already a popular song hit. Hear him put across other big song numbers as only he can. Hear him talk—in English plus a delicious accent.

MISS EVELYN STROUD BECOMES BRIDE OF WILLIAM H. VODREY, JR.

A PRETTY WEDDING took place at noon today when Miss Evelyn Stroud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Klenegar Stroud of Old Mill road, Great Neck, New York, became the bride of William Henry Vodrey, Jr., son of Attorney and Mrs. William Vodrey, of Park boulevard. The ceremony was solemnized in the All Saints Episcopal chapel at Great Neck, by the vicar, the Rev. Mr. Grimes.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her maid of honor was Miss Priscilla Martin of Providence, R. I. Joseph Kelly Vodrey, of Canton, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Robert Thompson Hall of this city; William Dawson Gaillard, Jr., of New York; Henry Hamilton George of Buffalo, N. Y., and Bronson Goddard of Upper Montclair, N. J., were ushers.

The bride is a graduate of the Dwight school and Smith college. The bridegroom attended the local high school and Mercersburg Academy, graduated from Princeton in 1925, and the Law school of Harvard university with this year's class.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Vodrey will sail July 4 on the DeGrasse to spend the summer in Europe. After October 1 they will be at home in Armstrong lane.

The bridegroom is associated with his father in the practice of law. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vodrey and daughter, Miss Margaret Louise; Mrs. Mary Vodrey Nease, Mrs. W. H. Phillips, Mrs. J. C. Kelly, Robert T. Hall, and Leland Thompson, and Mrs. Minnie Thompson Moore, formerly of this city, now of New York, were among the guests at the wedding.

Dames of Malta Mark Anniversary.

Tri-State Sisterhood, No. 199, Dames of Malta, celebrated their eighth anniversary last night in the eighth of Malta hall, West Fifth street. The program, which was arranged by Mrs. Grace Burdette, was in charge of J. H. Smith, as follows:

Song, "America"—Assembly. Address of Welcome—Mrs. Dora Pepper. Selection—Washington School Orchestra.

Piano solo—Mrs. R. W. Johnston. Reading—Mrs. Alfred Cartwright. Selection—Washington School Orchestra.

Reading—Miss Nelda Cartwright. Selection—Washington School Orchestra.

Piano solo—Miss Mary Pepper. Vocal solo—Miss Doris Jean Pepper. Address—Flay Clapsaddle.

Refreshments were served by Miss Harriet Stevenson and her committee. Eighty guests were present, including members of the East Palestine lodge.

Mrs. Howard Steele Hostess.

Mrs. Howard Steele entertained members of the El Simples club at her home, Fairmont street, Thursday afternoon. The social hours were spent with fancywork and music, after which refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Martha, and her mother, Mrs. Martha Williams. Covers were arranged for 12.

On Tuesday, the club will give a 6 o'clock dinner at the Green Lantern Inn, Rock Springs park.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, July 10, in the home of Mrs. J. R. Larimore, Lincoln highway.

Mrs. Thomas Morray Honored.

Mrs. Thomas Morray, delegate of the Daughters of St. George to the convention to be held in August at Jamestown, N. Y., was a guest of honor at a party held by the lodge members in Miss Janet Hardie's tea room, Dresden avenue, last night. Luncheon was served 25 guests.

PLAYS AT PARK

Johnny Johnson, is pianist and director of the Johnny Johnson Victor Recording orchestra which will be heard at Virginia Gardens, Rock Springs park, Chester, next Wednesday night.

GUESTS HONORED AT PRETTY DANCE

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM LOU THAN, of Park boulevard, entertained 100 guests last night at a dance in the East Liverpool Country club, honoring their daughter, Miss Zolotta Louthan, and her Oganitz school friend, Miss Wilma Johnson, of Endicott, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. William Billingsley of Akron, who were recently married. Mrs. Billingsley, nee Kathryn Smith, is Mrs. Louthan's sister.

Dancing continued from 9 until 1 o'clock. During intermission a toe dance was presented by Misses Jean Louthan, Jane Simmers and Susan Grogdole. A buffet luncheon was served. Summer flowers were used in decorating the club house.

Mr. and Mrs. Louthan were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Rinehart, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bough, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Goodwin and Mrs. Robert T. Hall.

Out-of-town guests included Miss Wilma Johnson of Endicott, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. William Billingsley of Akron; Miss Elizabeth and Lee Dauler of Pittsburgh; Miss Helen Moore of Sunbury, Pa.; Miss Nancy Platt of Lexington, Ky.; and Miss Marjorie Herbert of Akron.

JOHNNY JOHNSON AT ROCK SPRINGS

JOHNNY JOHNSON and his Victor Recording Orchestra of New York will play for a dance which will be held at Virginia Gardens at Rock Springs Park, next Wednesday night.

The Johnson orchestra, one of the favorites of New York's night life, is noted for its lack of "cowbell" jazz. Johnson believes that modern dance music should be as rhythmic as a symphony, and he and his musicians play it that way. How well they do it is proved by the fact that Johnny Johnson's orchestra was selected in competition with 380 dance bands for the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York, where they had an extended run and made the Penny Roof in the winter, and the Penny Roof in the summer, the two most crowded spots in the metropolitan dancing world.

Even a partial list of Johnson's professional engagements is an impressive recital, including the best known and most exclusive and expensive entertainment centers all the way from New York to Florida, with stop-overs at Atlantic City and Philadelphia, and a flyer over to London and to Biarritz. Among others, the fashionable Club Mirador in New York for several seasons, the Pelham Health Inn, the Twin Oaks Supper club and the Post Lodge, smart country places outside of New York, the Adelphi Hotel at Philadelphia, the Ross-Fenton farm at Asbury Park, N. J., the Montmarie club at Palm Beach and the Embassy club at Miami.

Golden Eagle Club Entertained.

Members of the Golden Eagle club were entertained Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Warren Wilson, Valley avenue. A contest was won by Mrs. Ora Laughlin. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Blanche Smith. Places were arranged for 16.

Mesdames Augusta Emmerling, Ad da Christlip, Blanche and Emma Smith and Ora Laughlin were guests.

Mrs. Otto Stockdale Hostess.

Mrs. Otto Stockdale entertained members of the Tsunami club last night with a theater party, after which refreshments were served at the Weaver Coffee shoppe. Mesdames Ray McShane, Charles Watson, Harold Benty, Lois Prevost, Harrison Mace, Harry Price, Raymond and Thomas Clark, Edwin Kountz and Andrew Walters were guests.

Corporal Communion Services Sunday. Circle No. 1 of St. Stephen's Episcopal church will hold corporal communion services at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in the church.

CIMARRON SALT CROP HARVESTED

COLDWATER, Kans.—The harvesting of the salt crop along the flats of the Cimarron river here, is under way.

The flats produce salt in such great quantities that the farmers scoop it into trucks and haul it to their farms. This year the yield is about average, the salt covering the flats measuring more than two inches in depth. Many Comanche county stockmen obtain their year's supply this way. Other farmers obtain it to sell.

Grasshoppers destroyed practically the entire bean and corn crop in Salvador last season.

Austria has 38 chain store systems selling a variety of products from sewing machines to beer.

Traffic to Continue While Road Is Built

Two and One-half Miles of River Route Will be Surfaced Between Empire and Stratton; no Detours, Engineer's Order.

WELLSVILLE, O., June 29.—Construction of two miles and a half of the Ohio river route, Route 7, through the villages of Empire and Stratton will be completed "under traffic" this summer, according to announcement by Max Gersuch, Jefferson county resident engineer of the state highway department.

With this method, one-half of the road will be built at a time and, consequently, detours will be eliminated. The road, which will be surfaced with either concrete or brick on concrete, begins at the end of the paving at the south end of Empire and extends to the Stratton north corporation line and will add another improved link in the Wellsville-Steubenville stretch.

The engineer's estimate is $144,000. Contracts will be let July 23 and the work is to be finished this year.

Contract for paving of West Myers street, Toronto, from Fourth street to the Pennsylvania railroad, will be opened July 2.

NO FIREWORKS UNTIL JULY 1

Ted Young, local merchant, called before Mayor Wallace L. Fogo after several youngsters claimed they had bought fireworks there, was warned by the authorities last night to comply with police regulations.

Authorities recently asked merchants to refrain from the sale of the fireworks until July 1. The merchant explained there was no intention to violate the police rules.

BAKER IS BOUND OVER TO COURT

A. A. Baker, arrested Thursday in Canton by Chief of Police John Fultz and Patrolman Orval Jarvis on a charge of abandoning his wife and family, was given a hearing before Mayor Wallace Fogo last night.

GORGEOUS GIRLS IN SCENES OF RARE SPLendor

Dayd Rollins and Sue Carol in a scene from WILLIAM FOX MOVIE TONE FOLLIES of 1929

Girls! Far in the majority among the two hundred are young women. They form the very choicest collection that it is possible to get together on an American talking picture stage, and all have good looks, singing and dancing skill and highly developed flairs for wearing costumes. Each girl actually is a specialist, many of them having been solo performers. At the Ceramic theater, four days, starting Monday.

You Can Buy
Graham-Paige Quality at $855
at factory

MANY people are surprised to learn that Graham-Paige quality can be purchased for as little as $855, at factory.

The 612, with prices beginning at this figure, is a large, powerful automobile.

When you lift the hood, you see a big engine—delivering 62 horsepower, with smooth operation assured by good balance. A seven-bearing crankshaft (2 1/2 inches in diameter) is supported by a rigid motor block. Water jackets extend clear to the bottom of every cylinder, giving complete and uniform cooling for dependable performance and long life.

The internal expanding hydraulic brakes, protected from dirt and water, are larger than usual in a car at this price. Brake drums are machined absolutely true, insuring contact for the full surface of the brake shoes on all four wheels. This means less need for adjustments and relining, and greater security through more efficient braking.

The emergency brake is entirely separate, giving the protection—which we believe essential—of two independent braking systems.

All through the 612, you will find extra size, weight and strength. Every one of its 3,125 pounds contributes directly to better performance and increased comfort and safety of its passengers.

The bodies are roomy and beautifully finished. Upholstery is genuine mohair, with a guarantee of long wear attached to every cushion.

Study the 612 and get a demonstration before you select your next car.

POTTERY TRADE GOOD AS JULY HOLIDAYS NEAR

Brief Suspension of Operations Planned in District.

OPTIMISM RULES

Knowles, Taylor and Knowles to Operate "New End."

Optimistic regarding trade conditions for the next six months, East Liverpool district pottery manufacturers today were preparing for a brief suspension of operations during the forepart of July.

Fourth of July shut-downs in many of the plants will be for one day, while other shops will be idle from three days to two weeks. Repairs will be made in the interim.

"New End" of The Knowles, Taylor Knowles company, a unite in the American Chinaware corporation merger, will resume operations at an early date, Homer J. Taylor, president, announced. The company is now operating the "China Works" and "Buckeye" plants.

A survey revealed the following suspension periods: Homer Laughlin China company—Holidays only at the Nos. 4, 6 and 7 plants; two weeks for the Nos. 1, 2 and 5 plants.

Edwin M. Knowles China company—One day at both Newell and Chester units.

Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company—Closed for Fourth of July.

Smith-Phillips China company—Possibly week or 10 days.

West End Pottery company—Clay shop and kiln departments closed for two weeks; decorating shop will be idle but three days.

Taylor, Smith & Taylor Pottery company—Closed for holiday.

Hall China company—Nos. 2 and 3 plants closed for one day; operations at No. 1 plant suspended for one week.

C. C. Thompson Pottery company—Manufacturing departments closed until July 15; other departments will operate on part-time basis for two weeks.

Harker Pottery company—Shut down period not determined, possibly week or 10 days.

CHRYSLER AGENCY CHANGE IS MADE

A change in the Chrysler and Plymouth automobile agency will be made in the East Liverpool-Chester district, it was announced today.

The Eppley Motor Sales, which has been the East Liverpool-Chester distributor, will continue to be the authorized dealer in Chester in connection with his furniture and hardware business there. A new agency will be established in East Liverpool.

It is probable that the new agent will take over the present Eppley quarters in the Winland building, Minerva street. Until the change is made the Eppley Motor Sales will be in charge of sales and service departments of the Chrysler and Plymouth automobiles in the East Liverpool-Chester district.

Mrs. Livermore Guilty

For if she saved the county the expense of a jury trial.

Husband Serving Life Term.

Attorney Ben Sacharow, Cleveland, then entered the case in the girl's behalf. Sacharow a motion to have the guilty plea vacated was heard before Judge David Thomas, of Marietta, who after a three-day hearing overruled the motion.

On March 29, the seventh Ohio district appellate court reversed the action of the lower court, and ordered that Mrs. Livermore have the benefit of a jury trial.

She met Lester Livermore, her common law husband, while working in New Castle, Pa. He was a taxicab driver. He, too, pleaded guilty to burglary and was given a life term at the same time his wife was sentenced to life imprisonment.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

By W. S. Cousins.

International News Service Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The railroad and public utility stocks forged ahead to new high price levels at the beginning of the weekend short session renewed buying was also in evidence in the copper shares, which moved up briskly under the lead of American Smelting and Anaconda. Aero stocks were well bought in this period, and the A. T. T. and I. T. T. stocks forged ahead under persistent buying, in its present form.

Business and financial conditions at the weekend were favorable.

Stocks of the New York Metropolitan Gas Light companies jumped into the lime-light at the opening.

Renewal of rail merger talk in the southwestern territory accompanied the active buying of Kansas City southern, Katy and other railroad shares. Missouri-Kansas-Texas (Katy) jumped 3 points to 58 1/2, the highest price since its reorganization in 1925. The high-grade dividend rails were inactive, with narrow price changes.

TWO SEASHORE AIRMEN MISSING

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 29.—(INS)—WPG, the municipal broadcasting station here, today sent out an appeal for information concerning the whereabouts of C. C. Garrett, Jr., of Atlantic City. He started from Wichita, Kansas, at 10 a. m. Wednesday, in an airplane with a companion named Hoff, and has not been heard from since. He had said he was going to fly direct to Atlantic City.

MAN IS FREED IN DRUG DEATH

Edwin Figner, 36, Released by Police in Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—(INS)—Edwin Figner, 36, a pharmacist, held by police for questioning in connection with the death of Mrs. Pauline Rader Bryan, comely 23-year-old beauty parlor operator, today had been released by local authorities.

Mrs. Bryan's death, doctors said, was due to an overdose of narcotics. When it became known that Figner had been with the woman a short time before her death, he was taken into custody and held for questioning.

Subsequent investigation revealed, however, police declare, that Figner had nothing to do with the death.

Two small marks, believed to be from a hypodermic needle, were found in Mrs. Bryan's arm. W. J. Ford, federal narcotic agent, declared he believed the death was due to an overdose of a sleeping powder.

Mrs. Bryan was separated from her husband, it is understood, and used her maiden name, Miss Pauline Rader.

OHIO COURT BANS FIREWORKS BLAST

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—(INS)—An injunction prohibiting John Thomas from allowing fireworks to be discharged near his stand on the outskirts of this city, was granted to four residents of that vicinity yesterday when they appeared in common pleas court here and pleaded that the discharge of fireworks by customers of Thomas kept them awake.

Motorcyclist Dies in Crash.

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—(INS)—Injuries suffered when his motorcycle "side-swiped" a street car today had caused the death of J. F. Adkins, 29, in White Cross hospital here.

"Musketeers" Still Up

same evening, and back on the Atlantic coast against at 1:16 a. m. today.

This was the epochal feat completed by Captain Frank M. Hawks early this morning when his Lockheed Air Express emerged from the shroud of darkness and fog over the field here, narrowly averting a serious crash in landing. He made the return flight in 17 hours, 28 minutes and 16 1/2 seconds, clipping 43 minutes off his own west-to-east non-stop record.

The transcontinental flier's actual flying time for the round trip was only 36 hours, 48 minutes and 48 1/2 seconds, for he rested in Los Angeles seven hours and fourteen minutes before taking off for Roosevelt Field.

In less than two days the speed demon of the skies set a non-stop record for both east-to-west and west-to-east flights, for his time of 19 hours, 10 minutes and 32 seconds from this field to Los Angeles eclipsed the record of 24 hours, 51 minutes set last week by Capt. C. B. Collier and Harry Tucker.

Refuel Cleveland Plane.

CLEVELAND, June 29.—(INS)—First refueling of the Stinson-Detroit monoplane, "City of Cleveland," in which pilots Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell are trying to set a new endurance record, took place over Cleveland airport at 7 a. m. today.

Newcomb and Mitchell took off at 6:38:51 p. m. last night. It was their second start in as many days, the first attempt ending six hours after the take-off when a violent rainstorm forced down the "City of Cleveland."

If the existing record, set recently in Fort Worth, Tex., by Reginald Robbins and James Kelly, is broken, Newcomb and Mitchell must remain aloft until 11:10:21 p. m. next Friday.

E. E. Basham, regular pilot on the Cleveland-Butte air mail line, has charge of the refueling ship. He took the "City of Cleveland" 100 gallons of gasoline on the first transfer. Later the pilots' breakfast was sent them in a similar manner.

A small crowd remained at the airport through the night.

Shortly after 9 a. m., the fliers dropped the following note, swooping down to within 100 feet of the airport to release the message:

"Will take on gas again at 11 o'clock. B. N. and R. M."

Three contacts have been executed between the "City of Cleveland" and the refueling plane, piloted by E. E. Basham and with Dale Dryer and J. O. Hayden making the actual transfers of gas and supplies.

OHIOANS WAGE DOG TRACK WAR

Madison County Banker Leads Fight on Gambling.

LONDON, O., June 29.—(INS)—Charles F. Sanford, banker and farmer, today had been elected as chairman of Madison County's Law Enforcement league, organized to aid Prosecutor Dean Richmond in the latter's fight against the system of "contribution betting" at the West Jefferson dog race track.

Though the dog races in that village have been closed, the enforcement league will make an investigation of the system and if reasons are found will take action against officials of the track.

H. M. Foster, Columbus, manager of the track, stood trial here recently on gambling charges growing out of operation of the track, but he was acquitted.

Ocean Fliers Rescued

Captains Gallarza and Ruiz de Alde and Pedro Madrazo, a mechanic, took off from Los Alcazar aerodrome, Cartagena, Spain, at 5 p. m. a week ago Friday. They expected to reach the Azores the following morning, but were not seen or heard from after being reported sighted over Tarifa in the Straits of Gibraltar a few hours after the start.

When a day overdue at the Azores, where the airmen planned a refueling stop before proceeding to New York, search was begun for the airmen. Portuguese, Spanish and English warships in the vicinity participated in the search, and for a week an unceasing patrol was made of the steamers off the coast of the Azores for some trace of the airmen.

Hope Had Been Abandoned.

Their safe discovery comes just when all hope had been abandoned for their recovery.

Under ordinary conditions, hope would have been abandoned long ago, but the plane in which the flight was being made was an exceptionally heavy and substantial craft, well equipped to ride the seas for an unlimited period except in heavy storms.

The brief laconic message received from the master of H. M. S. Eagle this morning telling of the fliers' rescue read as follows:

"Numancia found latitude 36.28 north, longitude 26.14 west. Aircraft is being hoisted on Eagle. Little damage. Crew all well."

According to word received by the admiralty, the Eagle is proceeding to Gibraltar at a normal speed of 15 knots, and she is not expected to reach Gibraltar until Wednesday.

The Numancia, it is learned, is virtually undamaged. The fliers apparently made an easy descent upon the waves, and the great plane remained intact despite buffeting by the waves during the week it floated aimlessly upon the sea.

It was only yesterday that General Primo de Rivera, the Spanish dictator, and Spanish aviation officials definitely gave up hope that the fliers would be found. It was known that he had sufficient rations on board to last for several days, but after fast gunboats, warships and any number of planes had sought unavailingly for a full week for the Spanish hydroplane, even the most sanguine hopes of their recovery were given up.

H. M. S. Eagle, one of the largest aircraft carriers afloat, is capable of a speed approximating 30 knots an hour, and carries a complement of half dozen planes. All during the search these planes took off frequently from the broad deck of the carrier to scour the seas over a large area for trace of Major Franco's plane, and it was when the search was about to be officially abandoned that a bobbing spot on the waves gave the location of the long-sought airmen.

Riotous Joy in Madrid.

MADRID, June 29.—(INS)—Scenes of riotous joy were enacted here today when announcement was made by the foreign office of the Spanish government that Major Ramon Franco and his three companions in the trans-Atlantic hydroplane Numancia had been rescued at sea by the British aircraft carrier Eagle.

An official communique telling of the rescue was issued by the foreign office at few hours after the rescue had been effected. Notices were posted on newspaper bulletin boards and other public places, and the populace went crazy with joy and relief.

Major Franco, as much a hero to the Spaniards as Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is to America, had been given up for lost after days of anxious waiting when like a bolt from the blue came word that he and his intrepid companions had been miraculously saved.

Hospital Attendant Fatally Injured.

CHILLICOTHE, O., June 29.—(INS)—Clarence W. Sigler, 30, Richmondale, kitchen attendant at the U. S. Veterans' hospital here, is dead today, having sustained fatal injuries when he fell from a porch of the institution to a sidewalk yesterday.

It takes about 500 more degrees of heat to boil mercury than water. But once boiling, mercury, which weighs 13 1/2 times as much as water, is much more efficient.

IT is very expensive, but can be used over and over. Mercury vapor is poisonous; steam from mercury does not wet steel.

The Hartford Electric Light company renders a service to industry, experimenting, successfully, with this idea.

DR. JAMES SNOOK LOSES HIS NERVE

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—(INS)—Dr. James H. Snook, confessed slayer of Miss Theora Hix, 24-year-old co-ed at Ohio State university, where the doctor was formerly instructor, today has lost that cool affability which has marked his movements since he brutally beat Miss Hix to death with a hammer and then slit her jugular vein with a pocket knife.

He is no longer the cool and calm man who withstood 16 hours of intensive drilling before he broke down.

He has lost several pounds in weight. His face is pale, and he sleeps very little, jailers at the county bastille where the admitted killer is being held, declared. "He's lost his nerve," they say.

CLARKE BROTHERS ASK RECEIVER

NEW YORK, June 29.—(INS)—Clarke Brothers, bankers, one of the oldest private banking institutions in New York City, posted a notice today that it was unable to meet demands for withdrawals and that, consequently, it was deemed necessary, "for the protection of creditors," to apply to the federal court for appointment of a receiver to take charge of the property.

The bank had been in existence since the days of the Civil war. It had a large list of depositors and conducted a substantial business in securities. The institution was located on the fringe of the financial district.

FINGER TORN OFF BY FIRECRACKER

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—(INS)—Margaret Pugh, aged 10, is suffering at her home here today from a badly cut hand. Several youths threw a lighted firecracker in front of the girl as they were passing in an automobile yesterday. A portion of one of the child's fingers was torn off by the explosion and several stitches had to be taken.

BOY EVANGELIST IN PULPIT HERE

The Rev. Freddie Thomas 19-year-old Bloomington, Ill. evangelist, who entered the ministry seven years ago, will tell the story of his conversion at the Church of the Nazarene, St. Clair avenue, at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

He was converted at the age of three and one-half years and entered the evangelistic field when he was in the public school at the age of 12 years, holding his first meetings at Peoria, Ill. He has visited 28 states in his evangelistic work.

The Rev. Mr. Thomas will hold two services tomorrow, at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. His subjects will be: Morning, "Baptism of the Holy Ghost;" night, "The Judgment."

Motorist Is Fined.

H. R. DeLong, 1129 Globe street was fined $5 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley this morning, after he pleaded guilty to a charge of fast and reckless driving. He was arrested in Harvey avenue by Patrolman Robert Berger at 7:20 o'clock last night.

LEGION SCOUTS PLAN CAMP TRIP

Approximately 12 members of Troop No. 42, sponsored by East Liverpool post No. 4, American Legion will leave Monday for the Boy Scout camp at Eagleton's Glens, Lisbon-Salem road.

Plans for this camp were discussed at a meeting in the Legion hall, Dresden avenue, last night. No further meetings will be held until July 29. Earl Mosher is Scoutmaster of the troop.

Seven members of the Flying Eagle patrol attended a meeting at the home of Patrol Leader Lester Cline yesterday. First and second class scouting was discussed by John Coleman, senior patrol leader, and Arthur Townley, assistant scoutmaster. Lunch was served.

REPAIR CREW GOES TO DAM 9

Stage in Ohio River Here is 15.4 Feet.

Repair crew No. 1, which has been placing new steel plates in the bear traps at Dam No. 8 in the Ohio river, was called yesterday afternoon to Dam No. 9, New Cumberland, W. Va., to repair the lock gate.

Readings at noon today at Dam No. 8 were 15.4 feet and 9.4 feet in the upper and lower pools, respectively.

The steamer Senator Cordill will arrive here this afternoon from Pittsburgh, enroute to Cincinnati. The General Wood is due tomorrow night from Charleston, W. Va. The Petsy Ann will dock here tomorrow noon, enroute to Cincinnati from Pittsburgh.

The inland, with two barges of steel and one empty, and the C. W. Talbot, with three barges of steel, passed here yesterday for Louisville, Ky. The J. H. Hillman towed eight barges of coal to Weirton, W. Va., yesterday and returned to Pittsburgh with six empties this morning. The Bellfonte was enroute today to Point Pleasant, W. Va., with two barges of wire. The Transporter with 10 barges of coal, passed here for Wheeling, W. Va., yesterday.

CAPONE DENIED WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—(INS)—Judge John Walsh refused to grant a writ of error for "Scarface Al" Capone today. The court ruled no error had been made in his arrest, trial and sentence to one year in jail for carrying concealed deadly weapons.

The only recourse left the Chicago racketeer is an appeal to the state supreme court. His counsel, Congressman M. Golder, is expected to file the appeal at an early date.

RAIN FORECAST FOR NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(INS)—Weather outlook for the period July 1 to 6, inclusive:

Ohio valley—Showers about Monday and possibly near the middle and the end of the week. Temperatures near or slightly above normal.

DENY LOWMAN ASKED TO QUIT

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(INS)—The White House authorized a flat denial today of a story carried out of Washington by a news service that Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Seymour Lowman, in charge of prohibition, had been requested to resign by President Hoover.

INDIANA MINE RIOT QUELLED

"No Need for State Troops," Sheriff Tells Governor.

NEWPORT, Ind., June 29.—(INS)—"No need for state troops; I've got the situation well in hand."

Thus did Harry Newland, doughty sheriff of Vermillion county, today squelch moves to bring militia to quell rioting in the Bono mine region, 14 miles southwest of here.

Single-handed, the middle-aged officer late yesterday dispersed a snarling mob of 2,000 coal miners surrounding 40 battered and bleeding non-union workers. His timely arrival probably prevented scenes such as were enacted in the Herrin, Ill., massacre of 1922.

Forecasting a grand jury investigation, the sheriff today said affidavits by injured men will be filed in the circuit court against a number of the rioters.

Union miners who took part in the demonstration arrived in more than 200 automobiles, some from points as far as southern Illinois and Indiana apolis.

When Sheriff Newland reached the scene he found 40 bruised and bleeding non-union men surrounded by a milling, swearing mob. Pushing his way into the midst of the throng, the grim-faced officer by sheer physical courage cowed the mob and sent its members slinking away.

SEASHORE TICKET SALE IS OPENED

Tickets have been placed on sale at the Pennsylvania passenger station for a 16-day excursion trip to Atlantic City, N. J., on Wednesday, July 3. Ticket Agent James Hodgkinson announced today. Many delegates to the 29th annual convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Pottery, will go to the seashore on this excursion.

Another 16-day excursion will be operated to the resort on July 17. A weekend excursion rate to Philadelphia and Atlantic City will prevail Saturday and Sunday, July 6 and 7.

ARSENIC BULLETS KILL AKRON MAN

AKRON, O., June 29.—(INS)—Belief that shotgun slugs fired into the body of Gasper Ripellino, 52, leader in the local Italian quarter who died from the wounds, were covered with arsenic to insure death, was expressed today by detectives investigating the slaying.

"Dame Rumor"

HAVING HAD A GOOD TIME GOES ON VACATION

There seems to be considerable discussion throughout East Liverpool and vicinity relative to the Sales and Service of Chrysler and Plymouth Automobiles. The rumor was started by some one learning that a Chrysler Distributor was looking for an additional dealer for this vicinity in other words the Chrysler Sales Corporation want two dealers here instead of one. One in East Liverpool and one in Chester.

Because of the fact that we own a big business building in which we have conducted a Furniture, Hardware and Automobile business for the past 25 years, in Chester, we have decided to be the Chester dealer only, where we held the Chrysler dealership both before and since we were made dealers in East Liverpool over two years ago.

We fully expect to continue just as we have in our present location until we have given the newly appointed distributors ample time to secure a dealer for East Liverpool, at which time we will concentrate our efforts on the Chester dealership, where we will continue to sell and service Chrysler and Plymouth Automobiles.

It is the intention of the newly appointed distributor to secure if possible a dealer to occupy the present location so that the sales and service of Chrysler and Plymouth Automobiles will be uninterrupted in East Liverpool, while change of dealers is being made.

Until Further Notice We Will Continue to Sell and Service Chrysler and Plymouth Automobiles in Our Present Location

$50 in Cash Awards for guessing Pictures

This is one of a series of pictures of East Liverpool Merchants or East Liverpool Business Places, one of which will appear in The East Liverpool Review each week.

FIRST $25 AWARD
$15 Second Award
$10 Third Award

AN INTERESTING CONTEST FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY

This "Guess Who" contest is being sponsored by the various business houses whose advertisements appear on this page, and you will find it an interesting way of renewing old acquaintances as well as making new ones.

Each week you will find a different picture until there has been a total of 25, and under each picture are three questions to be answered by each contestant. Each picture will be numbered and in order to compete in this contest it will be necessary for you to identify each one, starting with number one and continuing up to and including number 25.

The picture will consist of various business men or business women store managers and store fronts, but each picture will be some part of one of the advertisers' business. There will be only one picture for each of the advertisers whose name appears on this page. Many of the pictures you will recognize easily; others you may be in doubt about, but all you need do to identify them is to take the picture each week to any of the business places whose advertisement appears here and ask any of the employees of the picture represents their place of business.

Any advertiser on the page will be glad to answer your question. Start in right away. See if you can identify the picture that appears today.

RULES OF CONTEST

- 1—Read the advertisements on this page carefully. Decide which one the picture represents and fill in the blank lines.
- 2—Save the pictures and your answers until you have a complete set of 25.
- 3—When you have the complete set, write a letter stating why you deal at the various business houses who are represented on this page, either as a group or individuals.
- 4—Each set of pictures must be accompanied by a letter, but each contestant may submit more than one letter.
- 5—Neatness of letter and correctness of answers will be the deciding factor in deciding the winners.
- 6—Letters must not contain more than 250 words and paper should be written on one side only.
- 7—Letters must be written in long hand.
- 8—No merchant represented on this page, their employees or members of their families are eligible to compete in this contest.
- 9—No employee of The East Liverpool Review or members of their families are eligible to compete in this contest.
- 10—When you have a complete set of pictures, bring or mail them, together with your letter, to the "Guess Who Editor," The East Liverpool Review.
- 11—The decision of the "Guess Who Editor" as the winners will be final.
- 12—Winners of the contest will be announced on this page as soon as possible after the close of the contest.
- 13—Back copies of the paper may be obtained at The East Liverpool Review office.
- 14—In case no complete set of answers is returned, the ones sending in the nearest complete sets and best letters will be decided as winners.

BORDER PATROL KEEPS SHARP OUTLOOK FOR RUM

The force of the border patrol along the Detroit river has been increased and made more effective by the addition of many new speedy patrol boats of the type shown at top. These cruisers are well equipped to handle the hazardous work in the government's fight against the rum runners. The ever watchful customs men are shown below searching a pleasure craft in the river in their hunt for rum.

Pottery City Week By Week

With Apologies to O. O. McIntyre

Notification of the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the erection of a church by his first parish has just been received by the Rev. Dr. Warren O. Hawkins, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

The church is located in Maxbur, Ohio, on the Washington Noble county line. The celebration is scheduled for July 28.

The church dedication a quarter of a century ago had the unique record of having present as the speakers the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Smith, then the editor of the Pittsburgh, Pa. Christian Advocate, who later became a bishop of the church and the Rev. Dr. John W. Wallace, who when the Rev. Dr. Smith was elevated to the bishopric, succeeded him as editor of the church publication. At the time of the dedication, the Rev. Dr. Wallace was the presiding elder of the district, which duties are now designated by the title of superintendent.

During this, his first pastorate, the Rev. Dr. Hawkins remained four years at the Maxburg church.

Two East Liverpool men are taking a lively interest in the forthcoming effort by Ex-Gov. Harry Davis to change the charter of Cleveland so as to do away with the present system of operation under a city manager. If the change is made the former departure of clothing the mayor with the chief executive authority will be returned. It so happens that City Manager William Hopkins is known to Evan Evans, of Broadway, while Thomas H. Stephens, superintendent of the Manufacturers Light and Heat company, is a close personal friend of the former executive. Both met on the street recently and discussed the chances of the two men in their attempt to change and retain control of the Forest City's municipal power.

Both Davis and Hopkins are of Welsh descent which fact is likewise true of Evans and Stephens. Evans is inclined to think that Hopkins will ultimately maintain in his power in the city, while Stephens is equally of the belief that Davis is destined to return to the outstanding place that was his in the lake city before he resigned to stand for the Ohio governorship.

In the recollection to his friendship for former Governor Davis by T. H. Stephens, it is pertinent to note that he is well known by another former state executive—ex-Governor Zimmerman, of Wisconsin. The latter spoke in East Liverpool during the presidential campaign last fall. Stephens was one of the men who looked after him while he was here. When

TRIPLE TIE FOR LEAD CLIMAXES CITY LEAGUE FIGHT

Three Rivals Share Top At End of Opening Half

Four Postponed Games, to be Played Next Week, Expected to Decide Title; Katies, Chester and Newell in Dead-lock.

CLIMAXING one of the greatest City baseball league races that this district has seen in several years, Les McMath's Chester News last night turned back the Katies, erstwhile leaders, 6 to 3, at Smith Field.

As a result, three clubs today are tied for the top in the pennant drive. Last night's game was the last scheduled contest of the initial half and what will happen when the four clubs get together next week to play off four postponed games is difficult to predict.

The Katies, Chester News and Homer Langlin are all perched precariously at the peak of the flag pole. A couple of them are going to be jostled off before it's all over and one bet is just as good as another.

There is usually a hero and generally a goat or two in the average ball game, whether it's played at Hopkins' Corners or in the Yankee stadium. But last night there was none of the latter variety.

This animal, strangely enough, was missing despite the fact that the two clubs were keyed up to high pitch from the first throw to the last out. The same tenseness was evident among the fans and the fanatics on the sidelines who held their breath on every pitch.

But the work of Harold Campbell, or "Sap," as his aesthetic team mates refer to him, was so outstanding in every particular as to be downright sensational.

He was a tower of strength on defense and he wreaked havoc on offense. He crashed a home run in the fifth, had a single in the seventh, sacrificed in the first and rolled out in the third. In the fourth inning he cut off a run at the plate when he grabbed Stoffell's rap down the third base line and nipped McConnell at the plate.

McConnell and Chuck Kinsey did their utmost last night to make it a pay off for the Potters.

Kent swatted at a 1,000 clip with a single in the second, a triple in the fourth and a home run drive into deep left field in the sixth.

Kinsey collected three singles in four times up. He drove in the Katies' first and second runs while McConnell and his homer accounted for the third.

The Katies outthrew Chester, 10 to 7, but the West Virginians had more success in clouting when they would do the most good. On the Katies' side, for instance, Kent McConnell was the lead-off man in the second, fourth and sixth frames.

On every trip, as was pointed out, he hit safely, but, of course, there was no one on.

Those three runs the Chester had sent over in the first frame decided the issue. Wyant walked, moved up on Campbell's sacrifice and was given company when Pete Cebula drew a pass. Mike Cebula then smacked a double to right, scoring Wyant while both Pete and Mike reached home on Connors' two-bagger to left.

The Katies scored one in the first. Withered out with a walk and singles by Coleman and Kinsey drove him around.

The Katies made it 3-2, Chester, in the third, when they added another. With two gone, Schultz got a walk, stole second and finished on Kinsey's single to right.

Campbell crashed out his homer in the fifth to make it 4-2, but the Katies cut the margin by one in the sixth. That was accomplished by Kent McConnell's fourthly sock.

And then McMath and his charges rallied in the windup canto to make it decisive.

Springer led off with a single into center and went to second on Wyant's sacrifice. Campbell's single scored him and Campbell made the circuit on Pete Cebula's two-station wallop to middle.

Withered and Schultz collected singles in the final half of the seventh but were stranded on the paths.

Both flingers, Springer of Chester, and Stoffell of the Katies, worked hard and both were given support which deserves little or no criticism.

OTT GETS HIS HITS

Master Melvin Ott, the "kid" luminary of the New York Giants, threatens to show the veteran sluggers of the National league a few things in the art of swatting. Ott is one of the top clubbers of both leagues in the matter of home runs.

SUPPLIES WIN FROM WHIPPETS

Score Seven Runs in Fourth to Clinch Game.

Laying down a barrage of hits in the fourth frame which netted seven runs, the Potters' Supply nine of the Community league defeated the Whippets, 9 to 4, last night at Anderson Acres.

The Whippets had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning and held it until the fatal fourth and they managed to get two themselves in that frame and another in the sixth, but they were away short, with the Supplies tacking on a couple in the final canto by way of emphasis.

O'Hanlon limited the Autos to seven hits, his mates getting 12. Vess, Kinsey, Leigh and Dawson collected a pair apiece.

Tobin, Whippets' third sacker, had a big night at bat, with three blows in three times up.

Nixon Is Southpaw Champion

Columbus Man Wins Final Match With Wells.

TOLEDO, O., June 29.—Arthur A. Wells, East Liverpool, amateur southpaw golf champion of Ohio, yesterday afternoon relinquished his crown to Charles Nixon, Columbus, who will occupy the left handers throne until next year's meeting.

Nixon defeated Wells, 6 and 5, in the final 36-hole match in the second annual tournament for the unorthodox miltick welders here yesterday.

Nixon played stellar golf despite the strong northwest wind which swept over the Riverly course to make drives uncertain and approaches weak and short.

The new champion lost little time getting started for the title yesterday morning. He was 1 up on the first nine and increased his advantage on the second nine of the final morning round, which finished with the Columbus man 6 up.

In the afternoon Wells made a determined stand to overtake his rival but Nixon was not to be denied and finished on the 27th green still maintaining his 6 up advantage. The match ended on the 31st green when Nixon sank his putt for a par 4 and Wells missed a short try by an inch to take a 5.

SHAKEUP IN A. A. RACE DELAYED

Second Division Clubs Still Shiftless Bunch.

Once upon a time, which wasn't long ago at all, dopesters predicted a shakeup in the American Association pennant race, but it seems now that the teams in the lowly second division have settled back into their shiftless ways which makes a revolution in the standings seems well high impossible.

Louisville, though still remaining in fifth position, lost considerable of that prestige which made it a threat to the first division teams a short time ago, when the Columbus Senators fought an uphill game yesterday to emerge victorious by a 2 to 7 score. Columbus is in the sixth berth and there is little probability that it will climb higher, though there is also a chance of another of those ignominious descents into the cellar.

Kansas City and Minneapolis, which held first and second places, respectively, won their games yesterday, but so close were the scores that the victories are nothing to toast the horn about. The Cowboys drew a close one from St. Paul by a 2 to 0 score and the Minneapolis game was even closer than that, the Millers beating Milwaukee by only one run, the score being 3 to 2.

St. Paul is third and if the Reds are good to the Saints in the next month they may find themselves in the coveted second place. Milwaukee is seventh and any day now it may step up to sixth, or again, it may slide into the lowest region.

The Indianapolis- Toledo game was postponed until Sunday so that it could be contested as part of a double-header which helps the Toledo fans' baseball diet. Toledo is last, and the Hoosiers are a safe fourth, though it didn't look that way not more than four days ago.

St. Paul is third and if the Reds are good to the Saints in the next month they may find themselves in the coveted second place. Milwaukee is seventh and any day now it may step up to sixth, or again, it may slide into the lowest region.

The Indianapolis- Toledo game was postponed until Sunday so that it could be contested as part of a double-header which helps the Toledo fans' baseball diet. Toledo is last, and the Hoosiers are a safe fourth, though it didn't look that way not more than four days ago.

Swaggering Bill Melhorn, "Wild Bill" as he is known among the golfers, is in the midst of the open championships again. Few of the golfers in the play at the Wingfoot course in Mamaroneck, N. Y., will smack the old pill any further than this erratic golfer, who can score better than the best of them if he puts his mind on his work. His disposition seems to be his chief enemy and he lets things get under his skin to spoil his game. As for shot making, well, Bill can make all the shots. He ought to figure pretty well up with the leaders if he feels in the mood.

SOFTBALL RESULTS

Gastors Lick Y. M. C. A.
The Newell Service Station defeated the Y. M. C. A. on the Newell grounds, 1 to 1. The game was well played, despite the strong wind prevailing. Harley Rardin was the hitting star, collecting three safe blows, including a home run. White, with three singles, led the "Y" attack. R. Smith, Rardin and Diamond played well in the field.

Joe Jinx '10th Man' This Year

Weak Clubs Lick Strong Ones as Hoodoo Works.

By Les Conklin.
NEW YORK, June 29.—One of the freak developments of the major league races this season has been the inability of several of the pennant contenders to defeat certain other teams which, on paper, do not appear stronger.

The champion St. Louis Cardinals have captured only eight out of 28 games from the other three first division clubs, the Cubs, Pirates and Giants. New York has lost nine out of 15 to Brooklyn. The St. Louis Browns top the Yankees in the standing of the clubs but have dropped six out of seven to the champions. And the tail-end Cincinnati outfit has won more games from the powerful Pirates than from any other club in the National league.

These jinxes were strikingly illustrated yesterday when the Reds knocked the Pirates out of first place while the Cubs took the lead by vanquishing the Cardinals, 9 to 5, for their ninth triumph at the expense of the champions in 13 games this season. The Cards, who have been beaten by the Cubs six times in succession, dropped to fourth place below the Giants.

Pat Malone hung up his eleventh victory of the season for the Cubs and helped win his own game with a home run. Wilson and Hornsby also got homers, and Kiki Cuyler stole his 22nd base of the season. Wilson's homer was his 15th and put him in second place in the National league home run derby. The blow featured a seven-run rally in the second inning in which Jess Haines, making his first start of the year against the Cubs, was knocked out.

Red Lucas of the Reds beat Pittsburgh, 10 to 3. Cincinnati knocked Brane off the mound in the fifth inning.

As a result of their 7 to 2 win over the White Sox, the St. Louis Browns jumped to a game and a half ahead of the Yankees, but are all of 10 games behind the Athletics. Heinie Manush of the Browns got his 10th hit of the season, the first American league player to turn the trick.

Strong arm work by his teammates cost George Uhle, Detroit mound ace, a 5 to 4 defeat at the hands of Cleveland. Outfielder Johnson threw from center field clear into the grand stand in attempting to prevent a score and Catcher Shen burlied the ball almost as far in trying to nlp a runner at second.

Errors also were partly responsible for the 5 to 2 defeat which Myles Thomas of Washington sustained at the hands of Jack Russell of the Red Sox.

Rain washed out other scheduled games, including the second game of the series between the Athletics and Yankees in Philadelphia.

Hands Unseen

New Mystery Story of "Gray Phantom,"

Loveable Outlaw.

By Herman Landon

Copyright by Street and Smith Corporation.

Certain that some one had been following him, Vanardy retraced his steps, looking to all sides, but there was no sign of a prowler. The night was darkening, the gloom being shattered only by a few scattered lights in the windows of Tuckaway Camp. For a few minutes longer he pursued his search, then continued his aimless stroll toward the waterfront, all his faculties on the alert against an indication of pursuit.

Cautiously he picked his way across the rugged ground, occasionally casting a sharp glance to the sides and the rear. There were no alarming signs anywhere, and he was beginning to ask himself if he had not been mistaken. He was in a state of mental and physical tension, and his imagination might easily have amplified such a simple thing as an animal scurrying for shelter.

The ground sloped gently toward the shore, and along the water's edge was a stretch of white sand. He turned at random, taking a course leading farther away from the house. The tide was just turning, and the dusky expanse of the water was very smooth and still.

With no other aim than to be alone with his thoughts, he plodded over the soggy sand, now and then glancing up at the clouds that were slowly spreading across the sky. The wind was rising, sweeping like a gentle whisper over the landscape and scattering the mist over the water.

Vanardy stopped. A short distance inland was a clump of trees and in their midst he could vaguely discern the outlines of a small building. Having no definite purpose in view but guided only by a vagrant impulse, he turned toward it. The ground at this point gave him the impression that it had once been a narrow cove which had apparently been filled in for the purpose of straightening the shore line, if so, the building toward which he was headed had probably been used as a boat-house at one time. Owing to the circuitous route he had traveled, he was only a short distance from the residence, whose lights were gleaming feebly among the trees. It was darker here than on the beach, and he picked his way with difficulty over the rock-strewn ground until he came up against a brick wall.

He found a door, opened it, then stood listening, but no sound of life came from the interior. From his pocket he took a flashlight with which he had provided himself before he left the city. Entering, he swung the electric gleam over the floor and the walls. What he saw confirmed his earlier impression that the building had once served as a boathouse. Among other debris was a dilapidated boat bearing the name Tuckaway Camp in scratched and faded letters across its bow. Apparently nothing of interest was to be found in such a place, but an indefinable curiosity urged him in. In a corner he saw a stairway, and in a moment he had reached it. His electric torch revealed a door, and it yielded readily to his pressure.

Standing in the doorway, he ran his eyes over a commonplace sight. Evidently the little room had once been occupied by a servant of Tuckaway Camp, for there was a bed, a table and two chairs, and a heating apparatus. The single window was boarded up, and the air was stuffy from lack of ventilation.

Vanardy was about to turn back, but a hazy impression made him cast another glance over the apartment. Despite appearance, he had an unaccountable feeling that it had not been vacant long, perhaps only a day or two. Something told him, too, that its former occupant had left it in a hurry. He tried to trace the impression to its source, but just then he heard the door below open and close. For a moment or two somebody fumbled about downstairs, and then he heard steps ascend the stairs.

Vanardy hesitated as to whether he should extinguish his flashlight, but the intruder had already reached the top of the stairs. He turned, and their eyes met. The newcomer's were hard and blue and held a light of cynical amusement. Vanardy had never seen him before, but he knew instantly who it was. Harry Bell's photograph had appeared several times in the newspapers in connection with accounts of the Craig murder. "Hello," said Bell, looking him coolly over. "Couldn't you find something more interesting to do than prowling about an old dump like this? I'm Harry Bell. Maybe you've heard of me?"

Vanardy nodded, as yet uncertain how to construe Bell's intrusion. There was a good deal of insolence in the fellow's manner, but somehow he could not resent it.

"Dinner is ready," Bell announced. "Stanhope asked me to go out and look for you. I'd never have found you if you hadn't left a trail of footprints in the sand along the beach."

"I didn't know you were at Tuckaway Camp," Vanardy remarked.

"Came only twenty minutes ago. Stanhope invited me to stay for dinner," he smiled impudently, at the same time leveling a sustained glance at Vanardy's shell-rimmed spectacles and gray-sprinkled beard. "Stanhope told me your name is Dawson. Funny I never heard of you, since we are in the same profession."

There was a faint sneer in his tone, but still Vanardy felt no resentment. He could see that Bell had keen eyes and was not lacking in imagination, and he wondered how long his assumed role would pass muster. For the present Bell evidently regarded him as one of the meddlesome but harmless cranks who flock in the wake of every sensational murder.

"Well, you see, I am only an amateur," he modestly explained. "The case has certain points of interest that attracted me. Are you here in a professional capacity, Bell?"

"Professional? Well, you might call it that. I am here to save the shreds of my reputation." He chuckled cynically. "Everybody says Harry Bell is crooked, and, between you and me, they aren't far from right. I've got neither conscience nor principles and wouldn't know what to do with them if I had, but murder—ugh! Don't like anybody to think that Harry Bell is a murderer."

"Does any one think so?"

"Don't you?"

Vanardy did not reply. The thought that Bell might know more of the murder than he had told had occurred to him. Out of his shell-rimmed lenses he studied this extraordinary individual who, though admitting his lack of moral scruples, professed to have come to Tuckaway Camp to clear his name of suspicion. "You're too polite to say what you think, I don't like polite people. I prefer plain words, even when they sting. Everybody who has had anything to do with this case is too polite. They have a sneaking suspicion that Harry Bell killed Craig, but they don't say so. You're like the rest of them."

"I think you are wrong, Bell. Everybody I have talked with seems convinced that the Gray Phantom committed the murder."

Bell thought for a moment. "Well, maybe he did. That's what I want to find out. If the Phantom did it, he turned the spotlight on that was ever pulled off."

"The fact remains that so far as appearances go, Harry Bell is the only man who had a chance to kill Craig. True, isn't it?"

"So it seems," Bell admitted, "but not always what they seem. It may turn out that another person had an opportunity to commit the murder. In that event the case against you—if there is one—would collapse."

Bell gave him a sidelong look. "Something tells me you're a whole lot deeper than you seem, Dawson." He chuckled dryly. "You're the nail right on the head. If it can be shown that the job could have been done by somebody else, then the Phantom is cleared. I've come here to show just that. I've looked about him in the light of the electric light. Not looking for clues in this old dump, are you?"

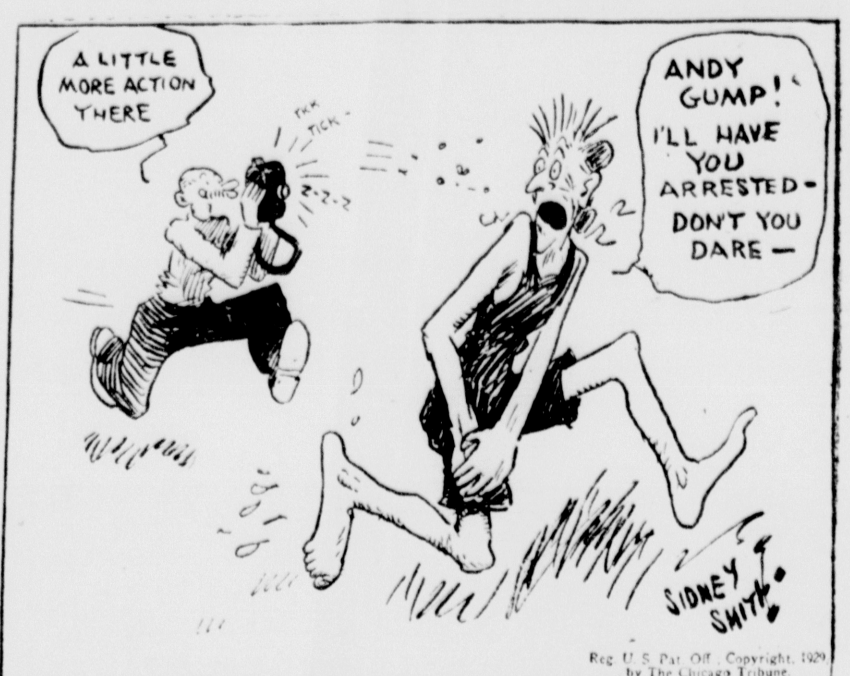

"No, I was just talking."

Bell gave him another sidelong glance, then nodded knowingly. "I was wrong, you're deeper than you look. Let's go to dinner. Follow me."

Silently, they walked toward the house. Vanardy, remembering his impression that he had been followed on his way out, glanced back over his shoulder, but he could see no sign of espionage in the scowling blackness of the night the scenery was weird and unreal appearance that dimmed his perception. They entered the dining room, where Stanhope was waiting for them, and a twinge of misgiving came over him as he saw that still another guest had arrived in his absence.

CROWD HEARS REVIVAL CHIEF

Rev. John Fleming in Nazarene Church Pulpit.

Largest crowd of the week attended the revival last night in the Church of the Nazarene, Washington street, when the Rev. John Fleming, of Ashland, Ky., spoke on "His Name Shall Be Called Wonderful."

The evangelist said in part: "Christ was a wonderful preacher. No man ever spoke as he spoke. He never peeled or clubbed. He always blessed but never blistered His people. Little children loved Him. He was tender and merciful and while kind was yet firm. His disciples hung upon His words and when their hearts were sad He drew near and blessed them."

"He was a wonderful miracle worker. The blind saw, the lame walked and the dead arose. Widows received their dead raised to life. Bed-ridden sufferers were made whole and the sick were healed. Hungry multitudes were fed, demons were cast out and many mighty deeds fell from His hands at every turn. Angry seas calmed down at His word and lost their fury when He approached."

"It was wonderful how He died being led like a lamb to the slaughter. He opened not His mouth. Suffering. He resented it not, but when they drove the cruel nails through those tender hands that had never done aught but deeds of kindness, He bore it all in meekness and prayed."

"The grave could not hold Him. He came forth from the tomb with the scalp of death dangling from His side and eternal life perched upon His banner. He told the world that in Him they might have life. He ascended into glory after 40 days of triumphant walk here on earth."

"He is a wonderful blessing. On Olivet's brow He lifted up His hands and as He blessed the people, suddenly gravitation lost its power and a bright cloud enfolded Him and received Him from their sight. It will be a wonderful day when He comes again to receive His bride, the church, into Himself."

"Steady Growth"

Business growth means more than "making money."

To grow in usefulness and in service, is the only real impulse to progress.

Every business day we are busily making use of every facility at our command to reach a higher level of usefulness to the public whose patronage has ever been so generous. To be worthy of your trust, is the guiding impulse behind our growth.

Every business day of the year—finds us awake to the responsibility of our job of Better Store Keeping.

Every article in this store is guaranteed to give satisfaction.

Merchandise cheerfully exchanged or money refunded if requested.
